

2009/2010 Season

Thierry Lincou is the former World Number 1, former World Champion and still ranked 8 in the current World Rankings. He is the current French National Champion beating his compatriot Greg Gaultier World Number 2 in the final.

He is currently playing for France in the World Team event. Last season he played some heroic matches for Chapel Allerton with fellow professionals announcing his game against the Malaysian Number 1, Ong Beng Hee, as one of the best squash matches ever played. He has a flamboyant French flair about his play which pleases the crowd. Thierry is strong and agile and pushes himself to the limit.

Chapel A number 1.

Alister Walker has been the Chapel Allerton Club professional for four seasons. When he joined the club he was ranked 48 in the World, he has now reached a career high ranking of 12. He has also been called up to the World Team event in Denmark to represent England. Alister made his England Senior debut in 2009 as part of the team that won the European Team Championships. Alister is originally from Botswana and moved to England at the age of 12. His goal this season is to hit the top ten and represent England on a regular basis. He is powerful and quick and one of the fittest players on the circuit. Alister has a big following from the Chapel A crowd and never disappoints.

Chris Simpson is a former British and European Junior Champion. He is now ranked 45 in the world. Chris lives in Harrogate and trains at Chapel Allerton. In the final of the National League last season Chris was 2-0 down and pulled out a remarkable fight back to win his match 3-2 and the title for Chapel Allerton. Chris is relatively small for a squash player, quick and nimble with sharp accurate shots.

Chris aims to hit the top 35 by the end of the season. His next tournament takes him to India in early October.

Laurence Delasaux is also a former European Junior and British Junior Champion. He has just gone back on the World Circuit and will be pushing the top 100 by the end of the season. Last year he played some fantastic matches for Chapel Allerton with the match against World Number 14, Borja Golan playing for Oxford, as the highlight. Laurence pushed the Spanish number 1 to five games to the delight of the fans. Laurence hails from Hull and plays number 4 for Chapel Allerton.
